Can-Am Care's Innovative Clickfine® Pen Needles Are Now Available at Major Retail Chains and Drugstores

Easy-to-Use Pen Needles
Click-on All Major Diabetes Pens

Atlanta, GA, June 15, 2009 – Can-Am Care, a U.S. leader in brand and store brand diabetes care products, announced today that it has expanded the national distribution of Clickfine, its innovative, patented line of click-on pen needles.

Clickfine pen needles are now available at national retail chains and drugstores, including Publix, the Kroger family of pharmacies, Discount Drug Mart and Food City. They're also sold at Wal-Mart Pharmacies under the ReliOn brand, and through the Good Neighbor Pharmacy network of over 2700 independent retail pharmacies. Can-Am Care is the only marketer of click-on pen needles in the U.S.

“Clickfine brand pen needle's retail availability has been growing steadily since it was introduced almost a year ago,” says Julie Arel, Can-Am Care's Marketing Manager for Insulin Delivery. “Now that it's at major retailers, more and more people with diabetes have access to the one pen needle that's fast, easy and simple to attach with just a ‘click,’ instead of traditional twists and turns – and the cost is substantially less than the leading pen needle brand.”

Clickfine pen needles are compatible with all major brands of insulin pens, including the popular Solostar®, Flexpen® and Kwikpen® and other injection pens including Byetta® Pen and SymlinPen®. They are available in three sizes to meet the individual needs of those with diabetes. “As well,” adds Arel, “the simplicity and ease of Clickfine pen needles make them especially helpful for people with manual dexterity problems or visual impairment – and for children too.” More information about Clickfine, diabetes care and insulin injecting is available at myClickfine.com.
